McKinley Inc. signs with TFG Card Solutions

ANN ARBOR, MI - McKinley has selected TFG Card Solutions to provide pay cards to their employees. Payroll debit cards will enhance the employee experience by cutting out costly check cashing fees and making distribution of expenses simpler. McKinley is excited to offer the Platinum Pay debit Visa® payroll cards from TFG to their employees. Jaime La Belle, HR Leader of McKinley says, "The option of direct deposit for those unwilling or unable to bank is perfect for us. Our employees throughout the country have always had issues getting checks timely; by giving them an option of free direct deposit we solved a real employee relations issue!"

TFG has also solved some financial management issue for McKinley. By using the card for all Petty Cash funds, McKinley is able to refill the account when needed and manage and review transaction history easily over the web with real time data. Employees have used the card to help manage their finances by share money with family. A great solution to bounced checks!

Studies have shown that approximately 10% of un-banked households were using payroll debit cards at the end of 2002. This figure was almost zero in 1998. Research projects that well over 30% of this growing demographic will be using payroll debit cards by the end of 2007.

About TFG Card Solutions:

Since 2004, TFG Card Solutions has provided US employers the ability to increase direct deposit to every US employee, namely the un-banked. As the value leader in the payroll market, TFG provides a win-win solution for their clients both employer and employee. By eliminating the costly paper check, employers maximize their current direct deposit system and experience positive results to their bottom line immediately. Employees are able to avoid the rising costs of cashing checks by accessing their pay for free at over 25 million worldwide locations.
